Creating Historical Memory: English-Canadian Women and the Work of History

By Beverly Boutillier, Alison Prentice

University of British Columbia Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Creating Historical Memory: English-Canadian Women and the Work of History, Beverly Boutillier, Alison Prentice, Canadian women have worked, individually and collectively, at home and abroad, as creators of historical memory. This engaging collection of essays seeks to create an awareness of the contributions made by women to history and the historical profession from 1870 to 1970 in English Canada. "Creating Historical Memory" explores the wide range of careers that women have forged for themselves as writers and preservers of history within, outside, and on the margins of the academy. The authors suggest some of the institutional and intellectual locations from which English Canadian women have worked as historians and attempt to problematize in different ways and to varying degrees, the relationship between women and historical practice. The authors raise many interesting questions about how gender influences historical consciousness and whether looking at the past through women's eyes alters the view. Women engaged in history in a wide variety of ways -- as authors of fiction, popular history, juvenilia, and drama -- as well as more academic research and publishing. They worked as individuals, as both professional writers and academics, and...
